

Gergenti Nero d' Avola Sangiovese IGT 2012

Region : Sicily

Varietals : 70% Nero d'Avola – 30% Sangiovese

Tasting Notes:

Ruby red color, the enveloping scent embraces us with fruity, ripe and sweetness. A Wine that shows great structure on the palate, harmonious and balanced.

Food Pairing:

Goes well with all red meat dishes, game, roasts and cheeses. Gergenti is an example of a distinctive wine that has its own personality and offers a recognized quality. Winemaking: On the southern coast of Sicily near Agrigento, the indigenous grape variety named Nero d'Avola is blended with the mythical Sangiovese in order to produce this great wine which combines the authenticity of its' origins and its character to modern winemaking and contemporary savors. Ageing in French oak barrels for 18 months with a few months in bottle.
